It Matters What Surgeon You Choose - What to Look for When Selecting a Surgeon

It's no secret that Laser Vision Correction has become extremely popular in the past few years. You've probably noticed advertisements in the newspaper and on radio promoting various laser vision correction practices. The allure to be free from contact lenses and glasses can be very strong. This is why we believe now more than ever it is important that you carefully choose your surgeon.

Since 1996, LaserVue Eye & Rejuvenation Center has performed more than 14,000 procedures on Bay area residents including many doctors.

The expertise, clinical excellence and specialized focus of Laservue's fellowship-trained surgeons have made them recognized LASIK surgery specialists. Not only can you rely on their outstanding medical qualifications, you can also trust that your LaserVue doctor will be there for you throughout all phases of your care - from the exam, to surgery and through all phases of follow-up. That continuity of care ensures you the best results possible.

Commonly Asked Questions

How many operations have you performed?

LaserVue Medical Associates has performed many thousands of LASIK procedures. Because we specialize in laser vision correction, you can rest assured that you have a Fellowship trained and dedicated surgeon caring for your eyes.

May I speak with patients who have had the procedure here?

Absolutely. We encourage you to visit one of our medical centers to meet our surgeons, clinical care team, and patients. You can also watch a procedure being performed "live". This gives you the opportunity to view our surgeon's skill and meet the patient immediately after we perform the procedure.

Will I be able to meet the surgeon before my procedure?

Yes, we believe it is critical for you to meet one-on-one with your surgeon before your surgery. This is why each LaserVue medical center has its own dedicated surgeon on staff. The vision evaluation and consultation is free. During the visit, one of our fellowship-trained surgeons will determine your candidacy for laser vision correction and answer any questions you may have.
